People where the trains are

How far the floor staffing is from the shape of the December timetable — lower is better

Closer to the December pattern every day, much closer at the weekend. The score: hour by hour, how far staffing sits from the trains; 0 would track them exactly.

Why Closing Time?

What all four shortlisted links give, what this one adds, and what it costs

- ✓ All four shortlisted: all 9 December rules and no avoidable fatigue warning
- ✓ All four shortlisted: about 14 full weekends off a year (today 10), at most 5 apart
- ✓ All four shortlisted: no shift over 9 hours, and every closing shift shorter
- ✓ This one adds: a 16:00 closer Monday to Saturday, 7h 55m (today up to 9h 10m)
- ✓ 8 of 13 shift times worked today, 5 new; today's 13:45 finish kept every weekday
- – Costs: 104 finishes at 22:00 or later (today 78); four weeks off 15 days, not 14

Late finishes: 42 a year each (today 39) — the rules' minimum. The colleague deck shows every cost openly.

What colleagues will notice

The good and the not so good — the colleague presentation shows both

Likely to welcome

- 14 full weekends off a year (today 10)
- At most 5 days in a row, fixed rota (today 7)
- One turn in 17 of 21 weeks (today 7 of 16)
- Every closing shift 45 min–1h 15m shorter
- 8 of the 13 shift times already worked

Likely to worry about

- At 22:00 or later: 104 a year (today 78)
- 5 new shift times to learn
- The 13:30 late runs to 22:30, not 22:00
- Best 14-day leave stretch 28 days, not 30
- Four weeks off needs 15 days’ leave, not 14

Expect late finishes to be the first question — the colleague deck answers it openly.

Where it stands

Three things confirmed verbally, two decisions left, two points still open

- ✓ December rules — confirmed
  The nine December rules. Everything here is built on them.
- ✓ 26 people on the link — confirmed
  Six more than today, with five cover weeks.
- ✓ Sunday cover — confirmed
  Ten on a Sunday — Sunday work stays overtime.
- ? To decide: which link we use
  Colleagues' views come first.
- ? Then: who starts on which line
  Who begins on which week. Open: the 13-day limit's written source; the FF19 reading.

Colleagues' views come first; the link is chosen after them, then who starts where.

The detail
