

In Step

One of three shortlisted December 2026 CEA links, in ten minutes

For managers · 26 weeks · code IS-26-T4 · Even Step is the recommended design

The short version

Four numbers

9 of 9	35h	0	26
December staffing rules met	contracted hours a week	avoidable fatigue warnings	people on the link
today 4 of 9	Mon–Sat average	cover weeks aside	today 20

Every December staffing rule met — and the steadiest weekly hours of the three.

The staffing you asked for

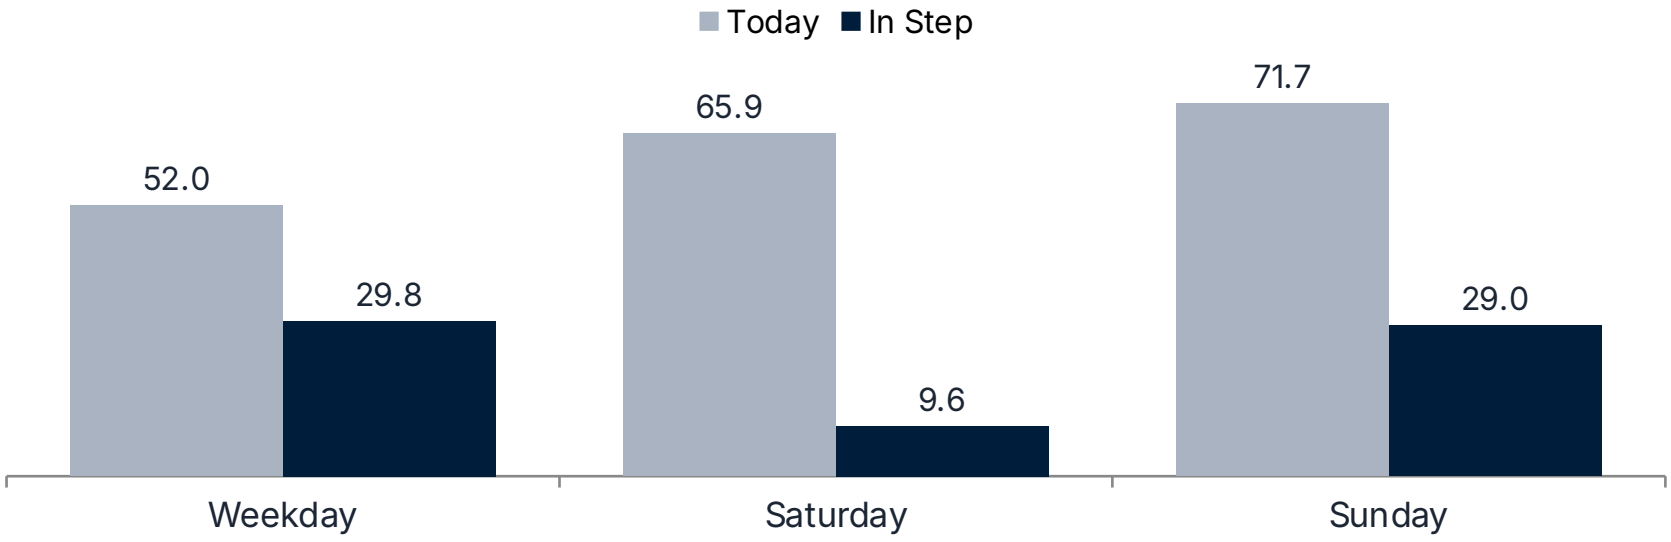

Each figure reads weekday · Saturday · Sunday

	Today	In Step
On duty each day (Sunday: at least 10)	11–12 · 10 · 8	15 · 14 · 10
At the open, at least 4 (06:20, Sun 07:15)	4 · 4 · 3	5 · 5 · 4
Still on duty at 22:00, at least 5	4 · 2 · 3	7 · 5 · 5
Through to the close, at least 3	2 · 2 · 3	3 · 3 · 3
Fewest on the floor at any time, at least 2	2 · 2 · 2	3 · 3 · 3

Every level met on every day — and the ticket office staffed in pairs, including Sundays.

People where the trains are

Fit to the trains: floor staff against the December trains, hour by hour — lower is better

Staffing follows the December trains more closely every day — far more at weekends.

People and hours

What it takes to run

	Today	In Step
People on the link	20	26
Contracted hours a week	35h	35h
Cover weeks (for leave and sickness)	4 of 20 (20%)	5 of 26 (19%)
People needed each Sunday (overtime)	8	10

Six more people, the same 35-hour week; 83h 30m of overtime each Sunday across the link (today 68h 15m).

Fatigue checks

Office of Rail and Road and rail-industry good practice — not a fatigue risk assessment

	Today	In Step
Avoidable fatigue warnings, cover weeks aside	4 (up to 5)	0 (up to 1)
Most days in a row (limit 13)	7 (up to 9)	5 (up to 7)
Shortest rest between shifts (limit 12h)	12h 30m	14h 35m
Longest shift, any day	9h 10m	9h 00m

Rest and days-in-a-row limits met with room to spare. In brackets: the worst case, if a cover week falls badly.

Why In Step?

What all three shortlisted links give, what this one adds, and what it costs

- ✓ All three: all 9 December rules; no avoidable fatigue warning, cover weeks aside
- ✓ All three: 14 full weekends off a year each (today 10), at most 5 weeks apart
- ✓ All three: no shift over 9 hours, and every closing shift shorter
- ✓ This one adds: steadiest weeks, closest Saturday fit, most early finishes of the three
- ✓ Shift times: 15 (today 18), 9 of them worked today
- – This one costs: the most long weekday earlies, about 40 a year each over 8h 30m

Costs all three share: two more Saturdays a year each, four weeks off needs 15 days' leave (today 14), and 42 finishes a year each at 23:00 or later (today 39).

What colleagues will notice

Per person, a year, cover weeks aside — the good and the not so good

Likely to welcome

- 14 full weekends off (today 10)
- At most 5 days in a row (today 7)
- Shortest rest: 14h 35m (today 12h 30m)
- At least 3 on the floor at all times (today 2)
- Weeks on one shift time: 18 of 21 (today 7 of 16)
- Every closing shift 30–60 minutes shorter
- 9 of the 15 shift times already worked

Likely to worry about

- Finishing at 23:00 or later: 42 (today 39)
- Finishing at 22:00 or later: 94 (today 78)
- Finishing before 14:00: 12 (today 26)
- Weekday earlies up to 8h 55m (today 8h 30m)
- Earlies or lates in runs up to 5 weeks (today 2)
- Four weeks off: 15 days' leave (today 14)
- Two more Saturdays: 28 (today 26)
- 6 new shift times to learn
- About £250 less premium and overtime, gross

Late finishes and leave will come up first — the colleague presentation answers both.

Where it stands

Three things settled, two decisions left, two points still open

- ✓ December rules — confirmed verbally
  Everything here is built on them; worth having in writing before a link is chosen.
- ✓ 26 people on the link — decided
  Six more than today, with five cover weeks.
- ✓ Sunday cover — confirmed verbally
  Ten on a Sunday — Sunday work stays overtime.
- ? To decide: which link we use
  Not yet seen by the roster office or a union rep.
- ? Then: who starts on which line
  Still open: where the 13-day limit is written down; whether a rest day resets one fatigue check.

Colleagues' views come first; the link is chosen after them, then who starts where.

The detail

- Every week of the link, day by day
- Staff on duty hour by hour, against the trains
- Every December rule and fatigue check, worked through
