

Proposed CEA Link — December 2026

How this rota would work from December 2026, and how it compares with today's link

Prepared 29 September 2026 · every figure is calculated from the rota, not entered by hand

PROPOSAL

Targeted Fatigue Redo

A cover week at line 18, with Sunday and Monday duties placed to reduce fatigue

CODE TF-24-EXT

FINGERPRINT 8eef9a13

SET AGAINST today's 20-week link

CREATED 22 September 2026

- ✓ 24 lines, one per person
- ✓ 35h 00m a week Mon–Sat, on average — exactly the contract
- ✓ longest run 9 days (limit 13)
- ✓ 0 rests under 12h
- ⚠ 4 avoidable tiring patterns — 3 as rostered (today 5)
- ⚠ 8 of 11 December staffing rules not met

What this is. Targeted Fatigue Redo is a proposal for the CEA link on the December 2026 timetable: a 24-week rotation for 24 people, where today's link has 20. It is for discussion, not a decision — it has not yet been through the roster office or a union rep.

DOES IT MEET THE DECEMBER STAFFING LEVELS?

3 of 11

rules met — 8 not met today's link meets 4 · each rule on page 6

CAN IT BE RUN WITHIN THE LIMITS?

Yes

inside every hard limit shortest gap 13h35 (limit 12h) ·
most days in a row 9 (limit 13)
· 35-hour contract exact

IS IT TIRING?

4

avoidable tiring patterns
today's link has 5 · page 7

WHAT DOES IT TAKE?

24 people

4 more than today's 20
4 cover weeks for leave and sickness · 9 on a Sunday as overtime (today 8)

ARE STAFF WHERE THE TRAINS ARE?

Closer

than today, every day of the week
weekdays 38.5 (today 52.0) ·
Sat 20.7 (65.9) · Sun 64.8
(71.7) · 0 is a perfect match ·
page 5

5 in 24

full weekends off
one in 5 weeks — today one in 5 (4 in 20)

48 a year

finishes at 23:00 or later, each today 39 · about one extra every 6 weeks

54 a year

starts at 06:20, the open, each today 62 · about one fewer every 6 or 7 weeks

Staff are likely to welcome

- A full weekend off one in 5 weeks (today one in 5)
- Shorter weekday and Saturday closing shifts
- Fewer tiring patterns — 4 (today 5)
- 13 of its 19 shift times are already worked today
- More rest between shifts — at least 13h35 (today 12h30)
- The average shift 11 minutes shorter

Staff are likely to worry about

- 6 new shift times to learn
- More late finishes — about one extra every 6 weeks each
- About 5 more days at work a year

Still to settle

- Rule not met: At least four on at the open, every day — here 4 · 5 · 3.
- Rule not met: At least five still on duty at 22:00, every day — here 4–6 · 3 · 3.
- Rule not met: Fourteen on a Saturday, ten on a Sunday — here 12 · 9.
- Rule not met: Four cover weeks, evenly spread — here lines 1, 7, 12, 18.
- Rule not met: The ticket office: two early and two late, identical shifts, every day — here Mon–Fri no · Sat no · Sun no.
- Rule not met: Every weekday closer starts at 15:45 — here closers start at 16:25.
- Rule not met: At least two on the floor at every moment — here fewest 3 · 3 · 1.
- Rule not met: No more shift times than today — here 19.
- Which link is used. This is a proposal; colleagues' views come first.
- Then who starts on which line. The rota does not say who works which week.

Mon-Sat hours average 35h 00m over 24 lines, a cover week counted as a contracted week · days worked average over the 20 working lines · Turns: how many different shift times the week works Monday to Friday; bold marks a one-turn week (see below) · Minutes: total duty minutes each day — Monday to Saturday adds up to the contract (20 people × 35 hours = 42,000 minutes)

The words on this page

Link — the whole rota: 24 weeks laid out as 24 lines. Everyone works line 1, then line 2, and so on round the wheel; the link needs 24 people.

Turn — a shift time, such as 06:20-13:35. An early starts before 11:00; a late starts at 11:00 or later.

Cover (spare) week — a week with no fixed times. You work four duties of the seven days, placed by the roster clerk to cover leave and sickness.

The contract — 35 hours a week, averaged over the 24 lines; a cover week counts as a full contracted week.

The floor — staff out on the station (gates, concourse, platforms); the ticket office joins it only at the quiet ends (page 5).

Handover — the overlap when one shift takes over from another.

Line — one week of the pattern, Sunday to Saturday. You move down a line each week, and line 24 goes back to line 1.

Rest day (RD) — a day off inside the contracted week. Two together make a proper break; one on its own does not count as a 48-hour break.

Sunday — not part of the contract. A Sunday duty is rest-day working, paid on top of the week, which is why the hours are shown Mon-Sat and all week.

One-turn week — one clock time Monday to Friday, with every day of the week an early or every day a late (shown bold in the Turns column); the easiest kind of week to live around.

Opener / closer — the first people on duty in the morning and the last at night.

Fit — how closely the number of people on duty follows the number of trains through the day; 0 is a perfect match, lower is better.

People on each shift time on a Saturday, a Sunday and — under Mon–Fri — the weekday with most of that time, so Mon–Fri can add up to more than work on one day. Green: more than today; amber: fewer; struck through: not used.

Monday to Friday add up to 36,105 minutes of duty and Saturday 5,895 — together exactly 20 people × 35 hours = 42,000 minutes, the contract. Sunday adds 4,635, paid on top of the contracted week. 6 of the 19 shift times are new — nobody works them today.

People on duty, hour by hour

Cover today and proposed against the measured December 2026 timetable (arrivals and departures, weighted by train length). A darker orange hour carries more of the day's trains.

How to read it: each blue square is the number of people on duty in that hour (darker blue = more people). The orange row is the timetable — the train carriages arriving and leaving in that hour, which is how busy it is (darker orange = busier). Read the columns top to bottom: cover should be thickest where the orange is darkest. The fit figure at the right end of each row scores that match for the whole day.

Ticket office. Its staff are not floor cover, but one of each pair at the quiet ends (until 08:00, or 09:00 Sunday; from 19:30; half on a Sunday evening). Today's office matches the plan except on Sunday: two earlier and one late (a 14:30–23:25 closer, in the office until 22:30), where the plan has two and two. This design rosters the office pairs on Thu and Fri; on Mon, Tue, Wed, Sat and Sun its floor figure is everyone on duty minus the four office posts the plan asks for. The indented rows take the office out of each side, less its quiet-end help, so the floor rows compare like with like.

Cover weeks are not in these figures — a cover week has no fixed times — so real cover is a little higher. Fit is one number for how closely the people on duty follow the trains through the day: 0 would be a perfect match, lower is better. Page 1's weekday figure is worked out from the five weekdays combined, so it is not an average of the scores shown. On Sundays five trains in the December 2026 timetable arrive or leave after the 23:25 finish (the last at 23:54); the bar under the Sunday 23:00 hour marks the time after the finish. No duty runs past 23:25 on a Sunday — that is agreed practice and stays so (settled 28 Sep 2026) — so those trains fall outside any link's staffed day, today's included.

Reading it. The floor rows are the fair comparison. The ticket office is staffed to its opening hours, not to the trains, so counting it in can make a day look better or worse than the floor really is. The fit measures shape, not numbers — each hour's share of the day's staff against its share of the day's trains — so an extra person in a quiet hour makes it worse even though nobody is worse off. Read it beside the numbers of people, never alone.

Hard limits and the December 2026 rules

Hard limits first — met or not. Then the December 2026 rules, each met or not. The fatigue factors are on page 7.

Hard limits — a design either meets these or cannot be run

- ✓ No more than 13 days worked in a row — longest possible run 9 days (today 9)
Longest possible run is 9 days, within Chiltern's limit of 13. A cover week is 4 duties in 7 days and the roster clerk places them, so this is the worst case the link allows. Worked as a block of four rather than split day-on-day-off, the worst case is the same — 9 days. It does depend on where the roster clerk puts the four: placed well, the longest run is 8 days.
The written source of the 13-day limit is still to be confirmed.
- ✓ At least 12 hours between duties — 0 rests under 12h anywhere in the rotation, Saturday-into-Sunday and line-into-line included (today 0)
Tightest anywhere: 13h 35m — line 20 Fri 16:25-23:55 into Sat 13:30-22:00 (today's tightest: 12h 30m).
- ✓ The contracted week, exactly — 35h 00m average Mon–Sat over the 24 lines, cover weeks counted as contracted weeks 700h of duty a week across 20 working lines. Sunday duties (77h 15m in all) are paid on top as rest-day working, as they are today. Individual weeks range 25h 30m–47h 40m; only the average is the contract.

Still to settle

- 8 of the 11 December 2026 rules are not met — At least four on at the open, every day; At least five still on duty at 22:00, every day; Fourteen on a Saturday, ten on a Sunday; Four cover weeks, evenly spread; The ticket office: two early and two late, identical shifts, every day; Every weekday closer starts at 15:45; At least two on the floor at every moment; No more shift times than today. The shaded rows above give the figures.
- New shift times. 6 of the 19 are times nobody works today; page 4 lists them.

ORR fatigue factors

From the ORR's good-practice guidance, Fatigue Factors, page 3 (December 2021).  $\triangle$  present — the pattern is in this design and worth a look, not a breach ·  $\checkmark$  clear — it is not ·  $\bullet$  standing — comes with the station's hours or with any rotating link, not with this design's choices · – means it does not apply here.

These are 25 roster patterns that tend to tire people — 21 from the Office of Rail and Road's good-practice list and 4 checks from the rail industry's fatigue guidance (MRSF) — long runs of earlies, short gaps between duties, start times that jump about. For each one this table asks whether the pattern is in the rotation, today and proposed, and how big it is. The list is guidance: a factor present is a question to discuss, never a pass or a fail, and a design showing nothing is not thereby approved.

Also on the list, and applying to neither link: time of day (FF1) · duty length (FF4) · cumulative (MRSF) · night shifts (FF6, FF8, FF9, FF12, FF14, FF16, FF20).

- Avoidable tiring patterns found: 4 (today 5).
- Standing factors ( $\bullet$ ) are recorded for information, not counted. FF2 comes with the station's 06:20 open, and FF18 — the ORR's concern with a rotation that changes shift type about once a week (Managing rail staff fatigue, 7.68) — comes with every weekly link, which moves everyone one line a week by construction; its week-to-week step is shown as information.
- How to read the table. The figure beside each mark is the worst case found, for today's link as for the proposal, except where a row counts only the duties the rota fixes: the 55-hour row counts a cover week as no hours, and FF8b counts none of its days as early. "As rostered" under FF11 is the worst of the places a cover week's four duties could fall when worked together, which is usual. The MRSF rows are extra checks from the rail industry's guidance on managing staff fatigue, listed beside the ORR's own. FF2 and FF15 use the ORR's early — a start from 05:00 to 07:00, not the 11:00 used elsewhere on this sheet; the station opens at 06:20, so any link has FF2. FF11 counts shifts between two-day breaks, so a single rest day does not reset it — that is why it can be longer than the most days worked in a row.
- Cover weeks. A cover week's four duties can fall in different ways, and on this design that moves the most days worked in a row (8 if placed well), the run of 8-hour shifts (5 if placed well), the run of early starts, FF15 (4 if placed well), FF11 (15 if spread out, 9–12 if worked together) and the 55-hour row, which counts a cover week as no hours: 54.7–56.5 if the four are worked as 8-hour duties, which would make it present. Where they fall is for the roster office. This page is an aid to discussion, not a fatigue risk assessment.

How the figures are worked out

In plain words — what each figure means and what it does not.

Where the figures come from

Every figure is worked out from the rota itself — the 24 weeks on page 3 — by the Marylebone Roster app. None is typed in by hand, and the same calculation is run on today's link.

Cover weeks

A cover week is marked on all seven days but works four of them, placed by the roster clerk. It counts as a full contracted week of hours and as four days at work. Where a figure depends on where those four fall, the worst case is shown.

Sundays

Sunday is not in the contract: Sunday duties are overtime, as today. So "days at work" and the 35-hour week are Monday to Saturday. A Sunday off costs no annual leave.

Each person, a year

Figures given "each, a year" are averages across the whole link: every week's duties, times 52, divided by the number of people. Somebody's own year depends on which week they start on.

Following the trains

For each hour, the share of the day's floor staff on duty is set against the share of the day's train movements in the December 2026 timetable. 0 would be a perfect match; lower is closer. It measures the shape of the day, not a staffing requirement or passenger numbers, and it compares shares, not headcounts: an extra person in a quiet hour makes the figure worse although nobody is worse off. The ticket office is left out, except its second person helping at the quiet ends.

Rest, runs and weekends

The shortest gap is one gap — the tightest anywhere, Saturday into Sunday and the last week into the first included; a rota with many gaps just over 12 hours reads the same as one with none. The most days in a row is the worst case, with a cover week's four duties placed as badly as they can be. A full weekend off is a Saturday off followed by a Sunday off.

Familiar shift times

How many of the shift times somebody already works today. A rough guide to how much there is to learn, not to what staff will accept.

Fatigue

The Office of Rail and Road's good-practice list of roster patterns that tend to tire people, with four rail-industry checks. It is guidance, not a pass or fail, and this is not a fatigue risk assessment. Two patterns — early starts at a 06:20 station, and a weekly rotation — come with every link, today's included, so they are recorded on page 7 and not counted.

What is confirmed

The December 2026 staffing levels, a 24-person link and the Sunday cover were confirmed verbally on 29 September 2026. The written source of Chiltern's 13-day limit is still to be confirmed.

How firm each figure is

Firm: the rest gaps, the contract, the days in a row and the staffing counts — worked out from the rota and checked again by the app. Confirmed verbally: the December staffing levels. Advisory: the fatigue patterns — guidance, never a pass or fail. A guide: how closely staff follow the trains, and how familiar the shift times are.

What no page can tell you

Whether staff accept the new shift times; where the roster clerk places a cover week's four duties; how leave and sickness cover land; whether the pattern holds on Wembley event days, since it follows the train timetable rather than passenger numbers; and who starts on which week. Those are for the people who work it and the managers who roster it.

The rota is supplied beside this PDF as Targeted-Fatigue-Redo-TF-24-EXT-import.txt, ready to paste into the Links page (Import), which re-runs every check here from the pasted weeks. The code 8eef9a13 in every footer is worked out from the 168 days of the rota and nothing else, so a printout always matches the design it came from.
