

Proposed CEA Link — December 2026

How this rota would work from December 2026, and how it compares with today's link

Prepared 29 September 2026 · every figure is calculated from the rota, not entered by hand

PROPOSAL

Just Enough

Fifteen shift times, meeting all eleven rules

CODE JE-24-M29

FINGERPRINT 49717d70

SET AGAINST today's 20-week link

CREATED 28 September 2026

- ✓ 24 lines, one per person
- ✓ 35h 00m a week Mon–Sat, on average — exactly the contract
- ✓ longest run 9 days (limit 13)
- ✓ 0 rests under 12h
- ⚠ 3 avoidable tiring patterns (today 5)
- ✓ all 11 December staffing rules met

What this is. Just Enough is a proposal for the CEA link on the December 2026 timetable: a 24-week rotation for 24 people, where today's link has 20. It is for discussion, not a decision — it has not yet been through the roster office or a union rep.

DOES IT MEET THE DECEMBER STAFFING LEVELS?

11 of 11

rules met

today's link meets 4 · each rule on page 6

CAN IT BE RUN WITHIN THE LIMITS?

Yes

inside every hard limit

shortest gap 14h05 (limit 12h) · most days in a row 9 (limit 13) · 35-hour contract exact

IS IT TIRING?

3

avoidable tiring patterns

today's link has 5 · cover weeks at their worst · page 7

WHAT DOES IT TAKE?

24 people

4 more than today's 20

4 cover weeks for leave and sickness · 10 on a Sunday as overtime (today 8)

ARE STAFF WHERE THE TRAINS ARE?

Closer

than today on weekdays, Saturday and Sunday

weekdays 34.3 (today 52.0) · Sat 51.4 (65.9) · Sun 34.9 (71.7) · 0 is a perfect match · page 5

2 in 24

full weekends off

one in 12 weeks — today one in 5 (4 in 20)

52 a year

finishes at 23:00 or later, each today 39 · about one extra every 4 weeks

59 a year

starts at 06:20, the open, each today 62 · about one fewer every 17 or 18 weeks

Likely positives for staff

- Every closing shift shorter — by about 30 to 100 minutes
- The average shift 11 minutes shorter
- No shift longer than 8h30 (today 9h10)
- Shortest rest between shifts 14h05 (today 12h30)
- Fewer tiring patterns — 3 (today 5)
- Start times move less from week to week — 2h26 (today 4h00)

What colleagues may be concerned about

- Fewer full weekends off: one in 12 weeks (today one in 5)
- More six-day weeks — 2 (today 1)
- More single rest days, which are not a two-day break — 7 (today 4)
- About 5 more days at work a year
- More late finishes — about one extra every 4 weeks each
- Worse than today on too little rest after a run of early starts (7, today 3) and start times that jump by more than two hours (8, today 6)
- 10 new shift times to learn

Still to settle

- Which link is used. This is a proposal; colleagues' views come first.
- Then who starts on which line. The rota does not say who works which week.

What changes, in numbers

THE ROTATION

The 24-line link

Sunday to Saturday per line; everyone moves down one line each week and line 24 goes back to line 1. Hours and days at the right, cover beneath.

Rest day

Mon-Sat hours average 35h 00m over 24 lines, a cover week counted as a contracted week · days worked average over the 20 working lines · Turns: how many different shift times the week works Monday to Friday; bold marks a one-turn week (see below) · Minutes: total duty minutes each day — Monday to Saturday adds up to the contract (35 hours for each of the 20 working weeks = 42,000 minutes)

The words on this page

Link — the whole rota: 24 weeks laid out as 24 lines. Everyone works line 1, then line 2, and so on round the wheel; the link needs 24 people.

Line — one week of the pattern, Sunday to Saturday. You move down a line each week, and line 24 goes back to line 1.

Turn — a shift time, such as 06:20-13:20. An early starts before 11:00; a late starts at 11:00 or later.

Rest day (RD) — a day off inside the contracted week. Two together make a proper break; one on its own does not count as a 48-hour break.

Cover (spare) week — a week with no fixed times. You work four duties of the seven days, placed by the roster clerk to cover leave and sickness.

Sunday — not part of the contract. A Sunday duty is rest-day working, paid on top of the week, which is why the hours are shown Mon-Sat and all week.

The contract — 35 hours a week, averaged over the 24 lines; a cover week counts as a full contracted week.

One-turn week — one clock time Monday to Friday, with every day of the week an early or every day a late (shown bold in the Turns column); the easiest kind of week to live around.

The floor — staff out on the station (gates, concourse, platforms); the ticket office joins it only at the quiet ends (page 5).

Opener / closer — the first people on duty in the morning and the last at night.

Handover — the overlap when one shift takes over from another.

Match — how closely the number of people on the floor follows the number of trains through the day (page 5); 0 is a perfect match, lower is better.

People on each shift time on a Saturday, a Sunday and — under Mon–Fri — the weekday with most of that time, so Mon–Fri can add up to more than work on one day. Green: more than today; amber: fewer; grey italics: a time the proposal drops.

Monday to Friday add up to 35,280 minutes of duty and Saturday 6,720 — together exactly 42,000 minutes — 35 hours for each of the 20 working weeks, the contract (a cover week counts as a full 35-hour week on top). Sunday adds 5,010, paid on top of the contracted week. 10 of the 15 shift times are new — nobody works them today.

People on duty, hour by hour

Today's link and the proposal, hour by hour, against the December 2026 timetable. A darker orange hour carries more of the day's trains.

People on duty in that hour — darker blue is more. Anyone on for any part of the hour counts, so a handover counts both people.

Read down each column: the most people should be under the darkest orange.

Trains — carriages arriving and leaving in that hour; darker is busier. A guide from the timetable, not passenger numbers.

Match, on the right — how closely the floor follows the trains over the whole day. 0 is a perfect match; lower is better.

Good to know

- The ticket office. The December plan puts two people on every ticket-office shift, and they are not floor cover — except at the quiet ends of the day, when one of each pair helps on the floor: in the morning from the open until 08:00 (09:00 on a Sunday), and in the evening from 19:30 until their office shift ends. That is why the “of whom in the ticket office” row drops to 1 in those hours and the floor row gains one. Where it shows 4 (3 on today's Sunday), the early and late pairs are both there at the changeover. The “of whom” rows split the office out of each side, so the floor rows compare like with like.
- Sunday evening is the one change from today. Today one person keeps the ticket office on a Sunday evening — one of the three 14:30–23:25 closers, in the office until it shuts at 22:30 and then on the floor. The December rules ask for two, as on every other day, so the proposal's office row reads 2 on a Sunday evening where today's reads 1. The second of them splits the whole shift between the office and the floor: the table keeps them in the office row, the match counts them as half a person on the floor, and “at least two on the floor at every moment” does not count them.
- Only the floor is matched to the trains. The ticket office is staffed to its opening hours, not to the trains, so its rows carry no match figure. Page 1's weekday figure is worked out from the five weekdays combined, so it is not an average of the scores shown.
- Reading the match. It measures shape, not numbers — each hour's share of the day's staff against its share of the day's trains — so an extra person in a quiet hour makes it worse even though nobody is worse off. Read it beside the numbers of people, never alone.
- Cover weeks. They are not in these figures — a cover week has no fixed times — so real cover is a little higher.
- Sunday's last trains. On Sundays five trains in the December 2026 timetable arrive or leave after the 23:25 finish (the last at 23:54); the bar under the Sunday 23:00 hour marks the time after the finish. No duty runs past 23:25 on a Sunday — that is agreed practice and stays so (settled 28 Sep 2026) — so those trains fall outside the staffed day of any link, today's included.

Hard limits and the December 2026 rules

Hard limits first — met or not. Then the December 2026 rules, each met or not. The fatigue factors are on page 7.

Hard limits — a design either meets these or cannot be run

- ✓ No more than 13 days worked in a row — longest possible run 9 days (today 9)
Longest possible run is 9 days, within Chiltern's limit of 13. A cover week is 4 duties in 7 days and the roster clerk places them, so this is the worst case the link allows. Worked as a block of four rather than split day-on-day-off, the answer is the same — 9 days — wherever the block falls, so this row does not depend on how a cover week is placed.
The written source of the 13-day limit is still to be confirmed.
- ✓ At least 12 hours between duties — 0 rests under 12h anywhere in the rotation, Saturday-into-Sunday and line-into-line included (today 0)
Tightest anywhere: 14h 05m — line 11 Thu 15:45-23:55 into Fri 14:00-22:30 (today's tightest: 12h 30m).
- ✓ The contracted week, exactly — 35h 00m average Mon-Sat over the 24 lines, cover weeks counted as contracted weeks 700h of duty a week across 20 working lines. Sunday duties (83h 30m in all) are paid on top as rest-day working, as they are today. Individual weeks range 24h 00m–48h 30m; only the average is the contract.

Still to settle

- Nothing to settle on the rules — all 11 are met.
- New shift times. 10 of the 15 are times nobody works today; page 4 lists them.

ORR fatigue factors

From the ORR's good-practice guidance, Fatigue Factors, page 3 (December 2021).  $\triangle$  present — the pattern is in this design and worth a look, not a breach ·  $\checkmark$  clear — it is not ·  $\bullet$  standing — comes with the station's hours or with any rotating link, not with this design's choices · – means it does not apply here.

These are 25 roster patterns that tend to tire people — 21 from the Office of Rail and Road's good-practice list and 4 checks from the rail industry's fatigue guidance (MRSF) — long runs of earlies, short gaps between duties, start times that jump about. For each one this table asks whether the pattern is in the rotation, today and proposed, and how big it is. The list is guidance: a factor present is a question to discuss, never a pass or a fail, and a design showing nothing is not thereby approved.

- Avoidable tiring patterns found: 3 (today 5).
- Standing factors ( $\bullet$ ) are recorded for information, not counted. FF2 comes with the station's 06:20 open, and FF18 — the ORR's concern with a rotation that changes shift type about once a week (Managing rail staff fatigue, 7.68) — comes with every weekly link, which moves everyone one line a week by construction; its week-to-week step is shown as information.
- How to read the table. The figure beside each mark is the worst case found, for today's link as for the proposal, except where a row counts only the duties the rota fixes: the 55-hour row counts a cover week as no hours, and FF8b counts none of its days as early. "As rostered" under FF11 is the worst of the places a cover week's four duties could fall when worked together, which is usual. The MRSF rows are extra checks from the rail industry's guidance on managing staff fatigue, listed beside the ORR's own. FF2 and FF15 use the ORR's early — a start from 05:00 up to 06:59, not the 11:00 used elsewhere on this sheet; the station opens at 06:20, so every link has FF2. FF11 counts shifts between two-day breaks, so a single rest day does not reset it — that is why it can be longer than the most days worked in a row.
- Cover weeks. A cover week's four duties can fall in different ways, and on this design that moves FF11 (13 if spread out, 10–11 if worked together). Where they fall is for the roster office. This page is an aid to discussion, not a fatigue risk assessment.

How the figures are worked out

In plain words — what each figure means and what it does not.

Where the figures come from

Every figure is worked out from the rota itself — the 24 weeks on page 3 — by the Marylebone Roster app. None is typed in by hand, and the same calculation is run on today's link.

Cover weeks

A cover week is marked on all seven days but works four of them, placed by the roster clerk. It counts as a full contracted week of hours and as four days at work. Where a figure depends on where those four fall, the worst case is shown. Cover-week shift times are not known in advance, so the yearly counts of early and late starts, Saturdays and Sundays, and the rest gaps between shifts, cover the fixed duties only; whatever is later given in a cover week must still be rostered within the normal limits.

Sundays

Sunday is not in the contract: Sunday duties are overtime, as today. So "days at work" and the 35-hour week are Monday to Saturday. A Sunday off costs no annual leave.

Each person, a year

Figures given "each, a year" are averages across the whole link: every week's duties, times 52, divided by the number of people; these counts include Sunday overtime duties. "Days at work a year" is Monday to Saturday only: the days a week times  $365 \div 7$ . Somebody's own year depends on which week they start on.

Following the trains

For each hour, the share of the day's floor staff on duty is set against the share of the day's train movements in the December 2026 timetable. Hour by hour, the difference between the two shares is squared — so a big mismatch counts far more than several small ones — and the squares are added up and multiplied by 10,000. 0 would be a perfect match; lower is closer. The staff share is worked out from the minutes each person spends on the floor, with the ticket office's fixed posts taken out — finer than the whole-person counts on page 5, where a person counts in every hour they are on duty for any part of, so a handover inside an hour counts both people. It measures the shape of the day, not a staffing requirement or passenger numbers, and it compares shares, not headcounts: an extra person in a quiet hour makes the figure worse although nobody is worse off. The ticket office is left out, except for the help described under "The ticket office".

The rota is supplied beside this PDF as Just-Enough-JE-24-M29-import.txt, ready to paste into the Links page (Import), which re-runs every check here from the pasted weeks. The code 49717d70 in every footer is worked out from the 168 days of the rota and nothing else, so a printout always matches the design it came from.

The ticket office

The December plan has two people on every ticket-office shift. They are not floor cover, except that one of each pair helps on the floor at the quiet ends: until 08:00 (09:00 on a Sunday) and from 19:30. On a Sunday evening that person splits the whole shift between the office and the floor, so the match counts them as half a person and the two-on-the-floor rule not at all. Today one person, not two, keeps the office on a Sunday evening.

Rest, runs and weekends

The shortest gap is one gap — the tightest anywhere, Saturday into Sunday and the last week into the first included; a rota with many gaps just over 12 hours reads the same as one with none. The most days in a row counts every day with a duty, Sunday overtime included, and is the worst case, with a cover week's four duties placed as badly as they can be. A full weekend off is a Saturday off followed by a Sunday off.

Familiar shift times

How many of the shift times somebody already works today. A rough guide to how much there is to learn, not to what staff will accept.

Fatigue

The Office of Rail and Road's good-practice list of roster patterns that tend to tire people, with four rail-industry checks. It is guidance, not a pass or fail, and this is not a fatigue risk assessment. Two patterns — early starts at a 06:20 station, and a weekly rotation — come with every link, today's included, so they are recorded on page 7 and not counted. In the ORR's checks an early start is one from 05:00 up to 06:59; a "block" of earlies is two or more in a row; the start-time rows count how many times a start moves by more than two hours (a count, not hours); and the week-to-week move is the average change in a week's mean start time, Sundays included and cover weeks left out.

What is confirmed

The December 2026 staffing levels, a 24-person link and the Sunday cover were confirmed verbally on 29 September 2026. The written source of Chiltern's 13-day limit is still to be confirmed.

How firm each figure is

Firm: the rest gaps, the contract, the days in a row and the staffing counts — worked out from the rota and checked again by the app. Confirmed verbally: the December staffing levels. Advisory: the fatigue patterns — guidance, never a pass or fail. A guide: how closely staff follow the trains, and how familiar the shift times are.

What no page can tell you

Whether staff accept the new shift times; where the roster clerk places a cover week's four duties; how leave and sickness cover land; whether the pattern holds on Wembley event days, since it follows the train timetable rather than passenger numbers; and who starts on which week. Those are for the people who work it and the managers who roster it.
