Why Short Run?

What all three shortlisted links give, what this one adds, and what it costs

- ✓ All three shortlisted: all 9 December rules; no avoidable fatigue warning, fixed rota
- ✓ All three shortlisted: 14 full weekends off a year (today 10), at most 5 weeks apart
- ✓ All three shortlisted: no shift over 9 hours, and every closing shift shorter
- ✓ This one adds: the closest weekday fit, and no new Saturday time
- ✓ 9 of 15 shift times worked today; 6 new, 4 of them shorter versions of today’s lates
- – This one costs: an 8h 40m Saturday closer, and the heaviest week, 42h 30m

All three: two more Saturdays a year, four weeks off for 15 days’ leave, and late finishes — 42 a year at 23:00 or later (today 39), 94 at 22:00 or later (today 78).

What colleagues will notice

The good and the not so good — the colleague presentation shows both

Likely to welcome

- 14 full weekends off a year (today 10)
- At most 5 days in a row, fixed rota (today 7)
- One turn in 18 of 21 weeks (today 7 of 16)
- Every closing shift 30–45 minutes shorter
- 9 of the 15 shift times already worked

Likely to worry about

- Late finishes: 42 a year at 23:00 or later (today 39), 94 at 22:00 or later (today 78)
- 6 new shift times to learn
- A longer weekday early, 9h 00m
- 14 days' leave: at best 28 days off, not 30
- Four weeks off in a row: 15 days' leave, not 14

Expect late finishes to be the first question — the colleague deck answers it openly.

Where it stands

Three things settled, two decisions left, two points still open

- ✓ December rules — confirmed verbally
  The nine December rules. Everything here is built on them.
- ✓ 26 people on the link — set 1 October
  Six more than today, with five cover weeks.
- ✓ Sunday cover — confirmed verbally
  Ten on a Sunday — Sunday work stays overtime.
- ? To decide: which link we use
  Colleagues' views come first.
- ? Then: who starts on which line
  Who begins on which week. Open: the 13-day limit's written source; the FF19 reading.

Colleagues' views come first; the link is chosen after them, then who starts where.

The detail

- Every week of the link, day by day
- Staff on duty hour by hour, against the trains
- Every December rule and fatigue check, worked through
